Railroad Meeting Held at Jellico, Tennessee, Last Tuesday Night.

Enthusiasm Unchecked and Speech-making Was Indulged In.

NEXT MEETING TO BE HELD AT CORBIN

A delegation of a dozen or more from Harboursville left last Tuesday to attend the railroad meeting in Jellico, Tenn., to discuss further the proposition of the proposed Jellico, Harboursville and Beattyville railroad.

Our delegation was met at the depot in Jellico by a committee of the leading citizens and escorted to Glanmorgan Hotel, where our delegation were fed, and after which the meeting was called to order at the National Bank of Jellico. Mayor Newman presided, and after reading the minutes of the last meeting, the reports of the committees appointed to solicit subscriptions for the railroad were called for. The reports showed from Campbell county, Tenn., $1,950; from Whitley county, Ky., $1,400; from Knox county, $8,200; Clay county had no report to submit, although they had at least $3,000 that they could have reported. Owsley county was not represented, neither was Lee county, and as there was not subscribed the necessary $20,000, the matter of organizing was postponed until next Tuesday at noon, when the next meeting will be called to order at Corbin, and the directors elected to take charge of the management of the road.

A number of enthusiastic speeches were listened to, and some very important matters provided for, which will help to facilitate matters after the organization is perfected.

Those who attended from Knox county were Judge F. D. Sampson, Mayor R. W. Cole, F. F. Whittikin, Supt. of the Cumberland Railway; A. C. Vaughn, R. L. Blakeman, Chas. Davis, W. M. Tye, Ben Hulsa and D. W. Clark.

There were present from Clay county, Judge C. B. Lytle and son, Yancey, and John C. White, and from Bell county, Hon. R. C. Ford, who is also interested in the construction of this proposed road.

From present indications this road will soon be in position to make a contract with some capitalists to undertake the building of same, and we hope that before the leaves fall, to have the ground broke for the building of this, the greatest railroad in Kentucky.

To Cap Big Gusher.

The oil gusher on the David Lee farm, five miles north of Cases, Ill., still overcomes all efforts of the workmen to control it. While the flow apparently was checked, and it was thought that the well had been successfully capped, the increasing pressure tore out the plugs. Workmen have been busy thirty six hours and the flow continues unimpeded.

The pressure is so strong that rocks weighing five and six pounds have been thrown high in the air. Seven large ditches have been dug to carry the oil from the well, so that it will not interfere with the workmen. The ditches are running full and efforts are being directed to saving the oil. Men who have had experience in other oil fields say that the flow of the Lee well appears to be about 1,000 barrels a day.

W. S. TAYLOR

Succumbed Last Thursday Night After an Illness of About Four Weeks.

Buried in Honor of Red Men and Odd Fellows of Which He Was an Honored Member.

Last Thursday night at midnight the grim reaper, death, invaded the home of W. S. Taylor, near Bailey's Switch, and with the finger of death touched his brow and he surrendered all that was mortal and his spirit took its flight to the God who gave it.

Mr. Taylor was regarded by all who knew him as being an honorable and honest citizen and had the respect of all who knew him.

He was always interested in the upbuilding of the community, and was ready to lend what assistance was in his power for the success of any honorable undertaking that was calculated to benefit the community.

He was a staunch friend and ardent supporter of the Mountain Advocate and never tired in working for its success.

From the time it was established he has been a faithful and trusted correspondent, and always furnished fresh, crisp news in which the people were interested. His place on the staff of the Advocate will be greatly missed.

We visited him Thursday afternoon and found him too weak to raise his head or even speak above a whisper, but he greeted us with that familiar smile and welcomed us and invited us to remain with him.

As the hour of midnight approached he sank into that sleep which knows no waking and all was over.

For the past four weeks he had lingered with typhoid fever, which sapped his vitality and finally claimed his life.

The funeral service was preached at the home of Mr. W. H. Grace, on whose premises the remains were buried, by Rev. D. McDonald, assisted by Rev. Joseph Bretz, after which the remains were conveyed to the cemetery where the double funeral service of the Red Men and Odd Fellows, of which Orders he was a member, were repeated by the brothers of the respective Orders.

The following obituary notice was handed to us for publication:

W. S. Taylor was born February 7, 1865; departed this life September 8, 1905, aged 40 years eight months and one day. He was a member of the Methodist Episcopal church, and a consistent Christian. He was also a member of the I. O. O. F. and the I. O. R. M. He was married to Nanie Taylor, September 25, 1887. This was indeed a happy union. The wife says he was always good and kind, and domestic troubles were a thing practically unknown to the family, but all was joy, and peace, and love.

During his last illness, which was of typhoid fever, he told his pastor that all was well with him and that he was trusting his case in the hands of Jesus.

During the last two weeks of his illness he constantly refused to take any whisky; saying he believed it was wrong, and asking others to pray that he might get through without it.

A few hours before his departure he called his loving wife to his bedside and told her that he wanted to meet him all in heaven; he wanted his little family to be reunited there. His last words were spoken to Mr. Wm. Grace, who had been nursing him a good part of the time, were that he was all right. He leaves a wife, two children and a great number of friends to mourn his decease.

We wish to express our sincerest sympathy to the bereaved family and friends.

Dear friends be comforted with the thought that he has gone to be with Jesus, and that by being faithful to Him you may again meet your loved ones in that beautiful realm where parting is no more.

We'll never say good-bye in heaven!
We'll never say good-bye!
For in that land of joy and song
We'll never say good-bye.

Nineteenth Session.

The Nineteenth Session London District among Negro Baptist in Kentucky, Virginia and Tennessee, now in session with the Baptist church of our city, of which the Rev. H. Patterson is the spiritual overseer. The first services were held Tuesday evening, when Rev. J. H. Lewis of Paris, preached the first sermon, Rev. E. Williams, of Berry, alternate. Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock the Ministers' and Messengers' meeting opened with devotional exercises by Rev. P. H. Clark, of Jellico.

Pastor Patterson opened the first topic, "How should Ministers present themselves before the people?"

The next topic was opened by Rev. T. M. Faulkner, "The Pastor's place in Sunday-school."

The next topic was opened by Rev. Wm. Delk, "What steps should be taken to encourage men to attend church."

Wednesday afternoon devotional exercises by Revs. B. P. Burch, M. M. Tolliver and J. H. Lewis.

The following officers were installed:

Rev. T. M. Faulkner, president of London College, moderator; Bro. Robert Bledsoe, clerk; Rev. Wm. Delk, treasurer; J. Francis Wilson, State Organizer of B. Y. P. U.; Rev. G. M. Moore and J. H. Lewis, serving as escorts; Rev. J. B. Miller, temporary chairman.

The next topic, "Will the Right be judged at the final judgement?" was opened by Rev. G. M. Moore.

Wednesday evening the annual sermon to the ministers and messengers' meeting was delivered by Rev. J. E. Larue, Rev. G. Gilbert, alternate.

Rev. P. H. Kennedy, D. D. Superintendent of Missions, spoke of said work.

Mrs. E. B. Delaney, who spent years in Africa as a missionary, was present, with a native African and sang in the native tongue.

Thursday morning at 8 o'clock devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. I. Miller.

The association proper opens at 10 o'clock a. m., with G. W. Fish as moderator; H. Patterson assistant; A. B. H. McKee, clerk; Robert Bledsoe, assistant corresponding clerk; Thos. Griffe, treasurer.

There are twenty-five churches represented from ten counties. The sessions are open; all welcome; a large delegation present; also a number of distinguished visitors. The meetings will close Sunday evening when the parting hand will be taken.

Immense Apple.

Dr. Wm. Burnside brought to this office last Monday afternoon an apple that for size and beauty is unsurpassed. It is a pale green, flushed with pink, weighs one pound and ten ounces, and measures seven inches in circumference and 5 1/2 inches in diameter.

This fine apple was raised on the W. R. Davis farm on the Cumberland river and was brought to town by Mr. W. H. Davis.

It created quite a little excitement, and every one who saw it felt as though they would enjoy a piece. It is large enough for the whole family.

MEMORIAL DAY

Services Were Held Last Sunday at Trace Branch Church.

In spite of the threatened inclemency of the weather on last Sunday morning, a large concourse of people assembled at Trace Branch church to hold a memorial service in memory of their late pastor, Rev. W. C. Judd, who died last June of smallpox.

An interesting program had previously been arranged, but owing to conflicting circumstances unavoidable some of the speakers were not present, but the day was spent in an enjoyable manner by all present.

Judge D. McDonald was master of ceremonies and filled his part well, as he always does. After a few introductory remarks from the chairman, Rev. Joseph Bretz, the pastor, read an obituary eulogy of the former pastor, Rev. Judd, and spoke in the highest terms of him. He was followed by Dr. T. B. Stratton, who delivered a splendid address touching upon the memory of his fellow co-worker who had been called to his reward.

Prof. G. H. Reibold was expected to deliver an address but was called to go to Pineville and could not be present. Rev. J. H. Blackburn was also on the program for an address, but was detained in town to preach a funeral and could not attend, and as a substitute Judge McDonald called upon the writer to come forward and say a few words, which we did, after which the audience adjourned to the cemetery on the hill overlooking the church in the valley, where the graves of the friends who have gone before, were decorated, and the grave of Bro. Judd was banked with flowers. The Sunday-school children formed in line and marched two and two to the grave and passing on either side, each one placed a bunch of flowers upon the dead pastor's grave.

A poem was recited at the grave by one of Rev. Judd's granddaughters, Miss Maggie Judd, after which Judge McDonald offered prayer and the crowd was again dismissed.

From the cemetery they returned to the church, where an abundance of dinner was spread to feed all present and a large supply left over.

After dinner and shaking of hands and chatting pleasantly for a short time, the bell again called the congregation together, and after a number of songs were sung Dr. Stratton preached a very interesting sermon and the congregation was dismissed.

This was a day long to be remembered as one of pleasure mingled with sadness. It was a beautiful sight to see the little girls so tenderly remembering their deceased pastor. It was encouraging to hear the testimony of his life rehearsed, it was pleasant to meet and mingle with the good people of that section of our county and engage with them in the worship of God. We hope to meet again with these good people some time and receive the glad hand of welcome which they extend to those who come into their midst.

Now is the season when mothers are interested in their children's school dresses. Call on Mrs. Egland and see those dark percales and cheap woollens—just what you want.

Trustees in Rural Districts.

No doubt some one will say, "He is taking time by the forelock and speaking without authority." Yet I think it is conceded by all fair-minded people that I will be the next Superintendent of Schools, and I know there is much expected of me.

Now, in order that my term of office be a successful one, and my efforts not futile, it is necessary that the present incumbent does well his part, for my success, or failure, as the case may be, will, in a great measure, be determined by a number of things which are handed down to me by my predecessor in office. For instance, the teachers who have been given certificates at the recent examinations will be teachers, if they wish, for three years of my term; also the trustees who are elected this October will hold office three years from the first day of next July; so if these teachers and trustees were to prove incapable of doing their part of the work well, there would be an injury to three years of my work. Of course I could depose at any time all or any part of them who might prove inadequate to the task assigned them, yet the cause would suffer because of them.

I do not wish to impugn or censure the present school officials, because I have the kindest feeling toward them all. It is my purpose in this short declaration to incite more interest in this great work, and if possible, get an election held in every district of this county, and one (or more as the case may be) good man elected to the office of school trustee in each district.

The old aphorism, "As the teacher, so will be the school," is true only in part. If it had read, "As are the patrons, school officials, pupils and teacher, so will be the school," it would have been truer. I do not mean by this statement that the teacher is not the head and shoulders of the school. I know that each teacher should stand like Saul among the Israelites in his district. I know furthermore that every district needs and must have an honest, sober, earnest, conscientious and efficient teacher, and I am going to strive, as much as in me is to see that you get this sort of teacher.

But I am not going to expect it all of the teacher, for there are others who must play their part. In order that the best school be had; the trustees have got to wake up and do their duty as the law directs, and the parents heartily co-operate with the teacher and trustees in sending their children to school and in giving their assistance in anything to make the school what it should be. As the earth is swayed from its course by the falling of a small apple, so is the school effected by the part played by every parent in the district. I care not how alert or energetic a teacher may be, he cannot teach a successful school without the warm sympathy and hearty co-operation of the parents and trustees.

However, I am forgetting the subject of this writing and about to drift into the broad field of school work, when I merely wanted to encourage the people to cause school elections to be held in the various districts and to be elected to the office of school trustee. I have heard good citizens with large families say that they didn't care for the school action, and they proved it by their actions. They say, "Well, if I go and vote, I will make

SUICIDE.

Mitilda Jones Drowns Herself in Richland Creek.

Last Thursday afternoon on Richland creek, about one mile and a half from Bailey's Switch, Mrs. Matilda Jones, widow of the late James Matt Jones, committed suicide by jumping into the creek.

The body was found shortly after the horrible deed was committed and Judge Miller was summoned and a jury was impaneled and an inquest was held and the verdict was rendered in accordance with the facts as stated above.

It was evident that the woman was insane, and had deliberately planned to destroy herself, as the water where she was found was not more than three feet deep.

Trouble over the loss of her husband seemed to prey upon her mind, and it is thought this was the cause of her rash deed.

DO YOU SEE?

If you do not, it is because you have not the Electric Light Service installed into your house. They will make it as light as day, and if you try it once you would not do without it again. Give it a trial and see how nice and enjoyable it will be.

PRESERVE LINCOLN'S BIRTHPLACE.

It is a sad commentary upon patriotism that the birthplace of Abraham Lincoln was permitted to be sold upon a court-house block. Leaders in the Spanish-American War Veterans' association have however, come to the front and proposed that this reflection should be removed and that the Lincoln farm, 110 acres in extent, should be purchased and held sacred by the Spanish-American War Veterans. The property was really sold to a New Yorker, who it is said secured it as an investment, for $3,500, which sum is claimed to be in excess of its real value for farming purposes. Perhaps the purchaser would willingly dispose of it to the Spanish-American veterans for a sum not exceeding $4,000. A small per capita assessment, such as proposed to be levied upon the members of the Spanish-American association, would make it possible to raise a sum of money more than sufficient to purchase the property and make improvements upon it. The house in which Lincoln was born should be maintained as an historic spot, and other points upon the farm, which were associated with the early life of the war president, should also be preserved. A home for disabled Spanish-American veterans might also be established there in time, and thus make the property of material as well as historic value to the organization which it is proposed shall save it from probable commercial desecration. The Spanish-American War Veterans will render a noble, patriotic service in the preservation of the birthplace of Abraham Lincoln.—Knoxville Sentinel.

The people of Knox county remember very distinctly the leadership displayed by our young Representative, Dr. W. C. Black, during his service in the State Legislature, and they have an eye upon him to grace the Senate at an early date as the Senator from this the Seventeenth district.

Dr. Black is a born leader, and when the Republican party entrusted to him the leadership of the minority in the House of Representatives he showed to them that he was the right man in the right place, and if the signs do not deceive us, he may some day represent this grand old Eleventh district in the halls of our National Congress.

If he should decide to make the race, he would prove a formidable adversary to the man who should want to wrench from him the laurels.

From present indications Knox county will occupy first place as a coal producing county before another year. There has been greater activity along that line within her borders within the past few months than ever before in the history of the county. A number of new mines have been opened up on an extensive scale, and railroads are being built Monument for Blue Lick Battlefield.

Green R. Kellar, editor of the Carlisle Mercury, and H. M. Taylor, president and treasurer of the association for raising funds with which to build the monument on the Blue Lick battlefield, say that a meeting of the association will be held in Lexington some time this fall, and that another effort will be made to raise sufficient money to build a monument on the battlefield. Already a considerable sum has been subscribed but it is not enough to erect a suitable monument. Mr. Kellar says he would like for the Daughters of the Revolution to assist him and an effort will be made throughout the State to raise enough money for the monument.

Mineral Exhibit.

Persons interested in mineral lands should not overlook the fact that one of the regular departments of the State Fair is the Department of Mineral Products, which has been placed in the charge of Dr. J. C. Norwood. This department is open for exhibits from the State at large and advantages should be taken of it by persons who have anything of value in the way of clays, coal, ores, etc., to show. It is not a place where "just any old thing" will be accepted, but exhibits of worth, well arranged for display will be gladly welcomed. There ought to be a good exhibit of lead and zinc ores, the barite and hourspar from the Central Kentucky counties especially; owners of such deposits would find it of advantage to display samples at the State Fair. An opportunity is also offered the Lexington coal dealers to make nice displays of the coals from the various Kentucky mines which they represent. The Mineral Exhibit will be in the Floral Hall, on the same floor with the floral display, and will be handsomely installed.

somebody mad at me, or if I am elected trustee, I will make enemies out of my best friends." Well, to that citizen, I will say that you are a poor fellow and care but little for your own children, who are much nearer and dearer to you than any neighbor out of your own home. Then there are others who say it takes so much of their time to be trustee. Yes it takes a little time; but can't you well afford to give a few days out of each year in order to get a good school for six months, to which your children can attend free of charge. If you, good citizen, can't afford to be trustee, the dear children, ought to be taken out from under your care and given to some one who has the courage and ambition to go ahead and do for them, and give them what the law says they are entitled to. You can do the duties in a few hours work to the month, and why should such an important office go a-begging? A short-sighted, narrow-minded fellow may get wrong for a short while over a trustee performing his duty, but so soon as he sees that the trustee did the right thing the thing which was for the children, he will repent of his evil deed and come back with love unbounded.

So, to the people at large, I will say that the future prosperity, intelligence and citizenship of our fair county depends largely upon the way our boys and girls are taught and reared. Hence the great importance of doing it right. Yours sincerely,

B. E. PARKER,
Nominee for Superintendent of Public Schools of Knox County.

Help a Child to Find a Home!

The Kentucky Children's Home Society has grown to be one of the greatest child saving agencies in America. The success of the work is due to the good people of our State who have opened their hearts and homes to the homeless, destitute children under our care.

Sixty or seventy bright, sweet children are sent to us each month and it is necessary in order to provide for other neglected little ones to find good homes for the children now under our care.

Have you a child in your home? If you have, do you not think you could take another little one to raise and rear into good citizenship? Will you not help us by giving a home or finding a home for a child of any age from infancy, to girls and boys of twelve years of age?

The Master said: "In as much as Ye have done it to one of the least of these, Ye have done it unto me."

PUBLIC SALE

—OF—

LAND, STOCK and CROP.

As Executor of George W. Evans, deceased, I will sell at public sale on Oct. 5, 1905, at his late residence, three miles north of Crab Orchard, on the Lancaster pike, in Lincoln county, Ky., a splendid Blue Grass farm containing 40 acres and well improved, with good 2-room house, barn and other buildings. This farm is well watered and is a fine stock and grain farm. Also at the same time and place 40 head of good 1,000-pound feeding cattle; lot of cows and calves; 6 big work mares; 80 acres of corn in the shock, hay, oats, etc., also farming implements, household and kitchen furniture. Mr. Taylor, on the farm, or myself, at Hodgenville, Ky., will take pleasure in showing the farm to persons wanting to see the land before day of sale. Plenty of dinner on the ground for everybody.

THE KIND PAINT TO BUY
Kinloch
Important Memorandum—If you are painting, you must use Kinloch. It is the only paint that will stand the test of time. It is the only paint that will not crack, blister or scale. It is the only paint that will last longer than any other paint on the market.
We strongly recommend Kinloch Paint. The pure, raw linseed oil is the "life" of paint, and when you buy Kinloch Paint you buy the best linseed oil at the same time right out of the barrel. Mix together gallon for gallon and you have the best paint that brains can make and money can buy. The cost per gallon is less than for inferior grades of "Ready-Mixed" Paint. "Kinloch" is ready to mix. Come and see us—we'll tell you all about "KINLOCH" and save you money—in fine cost, and in the cost per year's wear.

MASONIC RESOLUTIONS.

Whereas, God in his infinite wisdom has seen fit to call from our midst our esteemed friend and brother, Henry C. Cole, from his home on earth to that Celestial Lodge of perfection; and whereas, Mountain Lodge No. 187, has lost one of its most zealous, untiring and devoted members to the principals and teachings of Free Masonry; therefore, be it

Resolved, That in his death the Craft and Mountain Lodge has lost a faithful member, his wife and daughter a loving husband and father.

Resolved, That this Lodge extend to the bereaved family of the deceased brother our profound sympathy in this, their hour of grief, and that we would commend them to God, who is ever ready to comfort and protect those who call upon his name.

Resolved, That these resolutions be spread at large upon the records of Mountain Lodge No. 187, a copy furnished to the widow, and that they be sent to the Masonic Home Journal for publication, and also to the Mountain Advocate.

A POEM

Bluegrass Kentucky, the best State of all,
Has in her confines, within her walls,
An innocent young man, who has been Convicted of crime done by other men.

Tom C. Campbell, the strongest in the play,
Met his fate on a cold January day.
He advised, counselled and was quite proud,
But died ere he got his corruption fund.

Judge Cantrill could not wait,
So in order to convict, would not vacate;
Old Joe, Jack and little Ollie shout
most hearty,
"Hang Bill Taylor and damn the Republican party."

The party was at stake, and a minority ruled,
So up comes Beckham, scarcely out of school,
Says "I am Lieutenant Governor,
and will take the seat,
I will call in my friends for the glorious fete."

"I am now Governor, none can it
dispute,
I will neither the murderers pardon
nor their sentences commute,
Especially the man whose name is Caleb Powers,
On whom the party its honor showers."

Nearly six weary years has Powers
been in jail,
All efforts to acquit him have been
of no avail,
Elected to the office of Secretary
of State,
Tried by three packed jurists, got a
Democratic rate.

Alas! Justice has taken its course,
And the people begin to sing,
Open wide the prison door,
And hear those liberty bells ring.
Though the gang gets sore,
And has begun to pout;
The Mayor interfered, too,
And got his teeth knocked out.

Behold! Kentucky, the dark and bloody ground,
Has a law within her borders the
most confound;
She has a black eye, too, and that a great one,
That suggests to this country, Cal-leba's coming home.

This dear State around her borders
the river twirl,
So largely noted for fine whisky, tobacco and pretty girls;
Her oratory is powerful and manhood is brave,
We seek to make her better and that without delay.

Oh! Kentucky, how long will you remain,
In the hands of men who know no
shame?
Sweet Goddess of Liberty we ask of thee,
Alight on Caleb Powers and set him
free.

Ex-Sheriff's Sale.

W. J. Caudill, Plaintiff, vs. Wm. Golden, etc., Defts. Notice.

Notice is hereby given that I, the undersigned, John H. Catron, ex-Sheriff of Knox County, Kentucky, by virtue of an execution, No. 436, issued on the 28th day of December, 1891, by the clerk of the said court, in favor of W. J. Caudill against William Golden, etc., and which execution was by me, while I was Sheriff of said county, levied upon, the land hereinafter described, on the 1st day of January, 1892, and by virtue of a venditioni exponas, No. 1647, issued by the clerk of said court, on the second day of August, 1905, in favor of W. J. Caudill against William Golden, etc., will on the first day of the September term of the Knox County Court, on the 25th day of September, 1905, between the hours of 10 a. m. and 2 o'clock p. m. at the Court-house door in the city of Barbourville, Knox County, Kentucky, sell at Public Sale to the highest bidder on a credit of three months, a sufficiency of the following described portion of the land herein described, to satisfy plaintiff's debt of $121.06 with interest thereon at the rate of six per cent. from the 22d day of July, 1891, subject to a credit of $120.00, March 4, 1892, and the further sum of $2.85, cost under said execution and venditioni exponas:

Namely, 35 acres of land lying on the waters of California Branch in Knox County, Kentucky, being on the head of the branch, the said 35 acres of land to be cut off of the land known as the farm of the said William Golden, and where he now lives, on California Branch, for the boundary of the said farm, reference is made to the deed made by Thomas Hall to the said William Golden, which is recorded in the Knox County Clerk's Office in Deed Book M., at page 52, the said portion of the said land to be cut off at the head of the said branch, so as to join the lands of W. B. Anderson and the lands known as the Wilson land.

Also 35 acres of the said farm being the portion of same lying on the waters of the McClelland's Branch. The purchaser will be required to execute an approved bond to the plaintiff, W. J. Caudill, bearing six per cent. interest from date till paid, with approved security, due in three months from date of sale and having the force and effect of a judgment.

Given under my hand this 5th day of September, 1905.

J. H. CATRON,
Ex-Sheriff of Knox County.

DRAGGING

down pains are a symptom of the most serious trouble which can attack a woman, viz: falling of the womb. With this, generally, come irregular, painful, scanty or profuse periods, wasteful, weakening drains, dreadful backache, headache, nervousness, dizziness, irritability, tired feeling, inability to walk, loss of appetite, color and beauty. The cure is

WINE OF CARDUI

THE FEMALE REGULATOR, that marvelous, curative extract, or natural wine, of herbs, which exerts such a wonderful, strengthening influence on all female organs. Cardui relieves pain, regulates the menses, stops drains and stimulates the womb muscles to pull the womb up into place.

It is a sure and permanent cure for all female complaints.

Put aside all timidity and write us freely and frankly, in strictest confidence, telling us all your symptoms and troubles. We will send free advice (in plain, sealed envelope), how to cure them. Address: Ladies' Advisory Dept., The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.

"I SUFFERED AWFUL PAIN

In my womb and ovaries," writes Mrs. Naomi Baker, of Webster Groves, Mo., "also in my right and left sides, and my nervous system was so painful and irregular. Since taking Cardui, I feel like a new woman, and do not suffer as I did. It is the best medicine I ever had in my house."
